

PROUD MEMBERS: MORRO BAY BUSINESS ASSOCIATION, READ ACROSS AMERICA DAY, FREE COMIC BOOK DAY

FUNNY PAPERZ™

MY CAREER IN CARTOONS!

By Pulitzer Prize Nominee & Local Author/Artist Joe King + His Wife, Angela- a Painter of International Renown!

"That Joe Guy", is currently in production of several self-syndicated comics through his cartoon forge & has welcomed more than 2,000,000 visitors since July 4, 1996. It all started with an "Elephant Key" from the San Francisco Zoo in 1965. Too young to enter the coloring contest sponsored by The Chronicle, he lied about his age on the entry form - & won...

ART IMITATES LIFE

The creative couple star in their own line of greeting cards...

As well as a brand new comic strip that has been featured in 4 local papers!

Have you seen it?

Joe & Angela
Creative Directors-

DAY: Friday
DATE: March 7, 2008
TIME: 3PM
COST: FREE!

LOCATION: The Village at The Palms & Oaks
55 Broad Street, San Luis Obispo, CA 93405

Today Joe is being laughed at in more than 22 different countries. His Pulitzer Prize Nominated features have been seen in dozens of publications across the country; most recently The Los Angeles Times, Bay News, Cayucos Breeze, Central Coast Family News and Information Press. He is a member of the Southern California Cartoonists Society, the National Cartoonist Society, the Assoc. of American Editorial Cartoonists & the National Press Club. An honorary graduate of Platt College, he has been a guest speaker at the Pasadena Art Center School Of Design, the Palos Verdes Art Institute and founder of IMAGINE NATIONS, a multi-national network of Cartoonists dedicated to freedom of thought and expression. In August of 2008 Joe will serve as Artist-In-Residence for the Charles Schulz Museum!

FOR MORE INFO CONTACT:

Debi Napzok

Recreation Director

The Village at The Palms & Oaks

55 Broad Street, San Luis Obispo, CA 93405

805 543-2300

